

The city and beyond

Getting anywhere in the city or beyond is easy at Inspire. By car, you have access to major routes like the 401 and Kingston Road. By transit, you're close to Eglinton East GO, subway and the proposed extensions to the LRT/RT. Or cycle your way along any of the scenic bike trails that crisscross Toronto. Start on the trail right next door at Cedar Brook Park; it joins up with trails like the Meadoway. Cycle west downtown and all the way east to hiking and canoeing at breathtaking Rouge National Urban Park. Like all Insoho communities, Inspire is located in an area that gives you a lot of choices. Because we know that getting to and from home matters in so many ways.

Hop on the 855 km city bike network.

Travel by GO from nearby Eglinton East GO station.

The expanding LRT will take you across the city.

Downtown is about half an hour from home.
